

Correctly evaluating tightness is critical to maintaining double seam quality. The engineering team at OneVision has developed a patented method to measure seam tightness from a captured seam image.

The PRO 400™ Video Module automatically illuminates the seam image enabling this Automatic Seam Tightness breakthrough measurement.